SAYS STATE MUST PAY RETURN FARE

Adj. Gen. Cole, of Massachusetts, Will Appeal To the Governor To Act.

BOSTON, Mass., July 29.—"The state should pay the return fare of the men who are mustered out of the service at the border on account of dependent relatives, if the Federal government will not take the responsibility."

So said Adj. Gen. Cole today, dissenting from the "standard regulation" of the war department, which assumes that a national guardsman becomes a civilian from the moment he is mustered out and must finance any subsequent traveling he may elect to do.

The rate of pay of a national guardsman is $15 a month. The men first at the border will have earned by this time about $10. The railroad fare from El Paso to Columbus is about $5.50.

Gen. Cole says if he cannot find a legal or a congressional remedy for the situation he shall offer a recommendation to Gov. McCall.

Nine Return To Camp. Up to a late hour last night a total of nine of the more than 600 militiamen who refused to take the Federal oath, and who have been ordered to report, had appeared at the Framingham mobilization camp.

Patriotic Pasadena Women Send Lemons and Oranges To Sick Soldiers at the Fort

Sick soldiers at the base hospital are enjoying cool drinks made from California lemons and fruit salads made from rich, yellow Pasadena oranges. The women's branch of the Navy League of Pasadena recently sent to boxes of lemons, oranges and grapefruit to the base hospital at Fort Bliss as a part of its activities in aiding the soldiers of the United States on the border and in Mexico. The fruits were sent here by Mrs. George H. Carlin, of the women's branch of the league and have been distributed among the 402 soldiers in the hospital. The fruits that the hospital did not have a food allowance sufficient to allow them to buy these luxuries for the sick boys, the Pasadena women promptly shipped the fruit to Fort Bliss with promises of more soon.

The Pasadena women have made an appeal to the entire California citrus belt to unite in assisting them in performing this patriotic service for the boys on the border. The Los Angeles chamber of commerce is acting as a supply base for the collection of fruits for the soldiers and many boxes have been sent to Gen. Pershing's troops in Mexico and along the border.

The base hospital at Fort Bliss has also received a moving picture machine as the gift of Miss Marguerite Buckler, who is running a number of times for the soldiers in the base hospital. Films will be furnished to the hospital for the machine by the Universal Film company at cost.

Tucson Red Cross Has Fed 12,000 Militiamen; Gets Cheers, Postcards

Tucson, Ariz., July 29.—The Tucson branch of the American Red Cross has fed 12,000 national guardsmen who passed through this city on their way to the border. The Tucson organization had the assistance of the Phoenix chapter and received $100 as a donation from the San Francisco chapter, Sierra Madre, Madre, Cal., also contributed.

Upon request of the officers of the Red Cross at Washington a refreshment station was established. Money, food and drink were poured in upon the officers of the chapter out of the generosity of Arizona citizens so that today, after having fed an army and paid one half of its expenses at the national headquarters, the chapter has a balance of several hundred dollars in its treasury. Its membership has grown to 400.

The handouts to the boys who were from Massachusetts, Connecticut, California, Utah, Idaho and Washington, included sandwiches, cookies, lemonade, milk, watermelons, feed tea, tobacco and letters sent back after the trains had departed.

WISH LAUNDRY IN PENN. CAMP

Ask Mrs. Childs-Drexel To Change Gift From Hospital To Wash House.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 29.—Reports from El Paso that the national guard of Pennsylvania members are anxious to have Mrs. George Childs Drexel, president of the Pennsylvania Women's Division of National Preparedness, present the soldiers with an automobile laundry, are puzzling the officers of the organization in this city.

Previous to the departure of the troops for the border, Mrs. Drexel, through the Women's Preparedness body, pledged $2,500 to the American Red Cross for the establishment of a base hospital. No mention was made at the time that the money was to be used for any other purpose.

Officers of the guard, according to the El Paso dispatches, are of the belief that Mrs. Drexel had made the gift with the understanding that the money was to be expended for the greatest benefit of the troops. Mrs. Drexel shortly after announcing the pledge, left for her summer home in Maine.

Policemen in Militia Get Salaries. Salaries due the 28 Philadelphia policemen now serving in the national guard along the Mexican border, which were held up because of the delay of the adjutant general's office in Harrisburg certifying to the rank given the police soldiers in the service, will be paid this afternoon at the office of Walter Gilbert, chief clerk of the department of public safety. Word to this effect was sent to the mothers and wives of the guardsmen and to others holding powers of attorney to collect the wages.

Young Woman Held on Cheek Charge. Stylishly dressed and showing evidences of coming from a refined home, Miss Eileen Walsh, 20 years old, daughter of a former prosperous manufacturer of St. Johns, New Brunswick, is under arrest at city hall, charged with obtaining more than $100 worth of goods from Atlantic City shopkeepers with worthless checks. She also stayed at one of the leading hotels.

tel for several days without paying her bills, it is alleged.

Policer Sergeant's Relatives Die. A peculiar coincidence marked the deaths of two relatives of sergeants at the Trenton avenue and Dauphin street police station during the past week. The deaths were those of William S. Sitt, 70 years old, 2124 East Adam street, mother of John H. Sitt, a house sergeant, and George D. Bell, 13 years old, 2314 East York street, son of George W. Bell, a patrol sergeant.

Mrs. Sitt died last Sunday night at her home after having been taken ill two weeks before while visiting relatives at Garrettsville, Pa. Bell, who was employed by a brokerage firm, died Monday, after having been ill with neuritis and pneumonia since June 6. His funeral was held today, and Mrs. Sitt was buried yesterday.

No Order to Arrest Gamblers. No instructions were issued to the police to arrest gamblers in the ten-penny and they were also ordered not to arrest more than three proprietors or inmates of disorderly houses in any one night.

This revelation and the naming of several special policemen who were charged with accepting graft, weekly and monthly, from disorderly houses in the ten-penny were the chief developments in the grand jury inquiry into vice-conditions.

Capt. Nicholas J. Kenny, who was suspended following the raid of July 15, was the principal witness. He declared he had never received instructions from the present administration to prevent against gamblers.

Find 20 Strange Indian Tribes. Dr. William C. Farabee, now residing in the Pennsylvania mountains after 15 years of exploration in the Amazon basin for the University of Pennsylvania, discovered at least 20 new tribes of Indians in that time. He made enormous collections of ethnological material which have arrived at the museum and will probably be on exhibition this fall.

For the Boys on the Border The Gruen Military Watch

The wrist watch is the ideal timepiece for the soldier. Thousands of officers and privates in the European trenches are wearing it. The regular pocket watch, worn under tightly buttoned uniform coats, is hard to get at. But the Gruen Military Watch, at a simple turn of the wrist, is instantly available. Securely strapped to the wrist, it is in no danger of being lost. And it is less likely, under rough service, to meet with accident.

The name GRUEN on the dial is your guarantee of real timekeeping qualities and durability.
